DeCrescente Distributing Company, Inc.
NYS Route 4
Site Plan Review – PB2007-16-220.-1-75

Mark Davies of the Stahlman Group represented the applicant, The DeCrescente Distributing Company, Inc. Mr. Davies informed the Board that the application before them represented some improvements to the facilities that have been planned. A covered load lane, (26,500 sq. ft) to be located in the rear of the facility has been planned in order to streamline their operation and allow for the loading and unloading of tractor trailers without being subject to the elements. Other improvements include some office renovation and additional ancillary office space to accommodate the new contruction drainage improvements, some new pavement for employee and trailer parking and landscaping to provide for a buffer between the parking lot and the roadway. Site lighting improvements are also planned to enhance the serviceability, aesthetics and functionality of the site. Mr. Stahlman was asked if the area would be adequate for emergency vehicles to access and he indicated that the area around the load lane would not be restrictive at all. All construction does comply with setback requirements.

Vice-Chairman Van Patten inquired if the applicant was aware of the lot coverage that currently exists on this property. Mr. Davies indicated that with the planned improvements, approximately 86% of the lot would be covered. The Town of Stillwater zoning laws provide for 60% coverage in the Industrial Zone. Discussion with the Board members resulted in this application being referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals to seek an area variance for violation of the lot coverage requiring in the Industrial Zone. S. Ronda also informed the Planning Board that because this project falls within 500 ft of a State or County Road, this application is subject to review by the Saratoga County Planning Board and would need to be referred to them. The application made by the DeCrescente Distributing Company, Inc. would be referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance and to the Saratoga County Planning Board for their review and comment.
